RELEASED IN FULL

missed first part

D: ... if you are willing to see Jacobi for a few minutes. It would be politicall awkward at this point. He has been holding over for a few days just to see you. I think I would like to revert to your earlier idea of seeing him without Dinitz. I was trying to get a hold of Larry to talk about it. If you pry Dinitz loose and see Jacobi I think that would be the best solution. I thought maybe you might ask Larry if he could talk frankly to Dinitz. Dinitz is trying to call your office about the appointment.

K: Let him suffer a bit. I will probably agree but I will think about it.

D: I thought may be Larry could do that -- he gets along very well with Dinitz in that way.

K: You will get confirmed. There are now two Arabs in the Senate. Relax. They won't get down to your level.

D: I am not worried about that.

K: No, it is correct advice. You are bound to be right every now and then. But I want to think about it.

D: Ok.
